Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 05 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Turning blustery and wet, with some heavy rain.

Today:
Starting bright, but cloud moving in from the west through the morning preceding a band of rain arriving by midday. A very wet afternoon, but showers, some heavy and possibly thundery following the rain later. Winds blustery and feeling cooler. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Localised heavy showers continue to affect the region through the evening and overnight, although becoming drier for many with some clear spells. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Friday:
A day of sunshine and showers with some localised heavy rain and thundery outbreaks, the majority in the afternoon. Blustery winds, especially in the south of the region. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Remaining showery, potentially thundery, and breezy on Saturday. Sunny spells and showers on Sunday and Monday, some heavy at first, though gradually easing on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.